

FAA FSDO MCI Processing Notes:
(Updated 06/15/2011)

We offer our thanks to all the Flight Standards District Offices (FSDOs) for their efforts with respect to the new regulations. Many FSDOs have studied the new regulations pertaining to Military Competency certificates (both to commercial pilot and to flight instructor) and are issuing the new certificates without difficulty. Here is a list of the FSDOs and Examiners who our subscribers have reported as knowledgeable on the issuance of certificates under the new rules. We hope it helps you to submit your application paperwork. If you have any feedback on any FSDO you visit, please email it to us at SheppardAir@aol.com and we'll add it to the list. Remember, meeting an inspector at a FSDO doesn't cost you any cash, but meeting with an examiner will come with an associated fee.
